

Jordan Maples:

Jordan Maples is a passionate communicator, gifted worship leader, and creative servant of the church. A credentialed minister in the Church of God, Jordan currently serves as the Girls Ministries Coordinator and Event Enhancement Coordinator for the Eastern North Carolina Church of God. She carries a genuine passion for preaching the Word and pouring into the lives of young women, encouraging them to grow in their faith and become confident, Spirit-filled leaders.

For nearly two decades, Jordan has faithfully served alongside her husband, Daniel, in student ministry, pastoral leadership, and State, Regional, and International administration roles. She is an anointed worship leader who ministers in settings ranging from the local church to international events, with a heart for leading people into meaningful encounters with the presence of God.

Jordan is also a creative at heart, using design and visual communication to share the message of Jesus. Through graphics and apparel created for local churches, Church of God state and regional offices, and international ministries, she has found unique ways to blend creativity and ministry. She views creativity not simply as a skill, but as an opportunity to communicate the Gospel, strengthen the church, and bring vision to life.

Jordan and Daniel are blessed with three children: Alexia, Malachi, and Aubrey. The Maples children are already stepping into their own callings through preaching, worship, and ministry. As a family, they love serving together, creating memories, and using the gifts God has given them to make a difference in the lives of others. For Jordan, some of life's greatest joys are found in worshiping God, creating alongside others, and watching her family grow in faith and purpose.
